DISCUSSION:

The California Department of Occupational Safety and Health, also known as “Cal/OSHA” requires employers to develop a COVID-19 Prevention Program (“CPP”) to reduce COVID-19 in the workplace. The Board in March 2021 approved the District’s CPP, then authorized revisions in September. Based on additional changes to the State’s safety measures and guidelines in December 2021 by the California Department of Public Health (“CDPH”), CPPs need to again be revised. Staff developed the revised draft, again based on templates from our partners at the California Joint Powers Insurance Authority (CJPIA) and Liebert Cassidy Whitmore. CPP changes are noted on the referenced document (ATTACHMENT 2).

RECOMMENDED ACTION

It is recommended that the Board review and approve this required plan as presented.
