DISCUSSION:

The California Department of Occupational Safety and Health, also known as “Cal/OSHA” requires employers to develop a COVID-19 Prevention Program (“CPP”) to reduce COVID-19 in the workplace. The Board in March approved the District’s CPP. Based on changes to the State’s safety measures and guidelines in June by the California Department of Public Health (“CDPH”), CPPs need to be revised. Staff developed the revised draft, again based on templates from our partners at the California Joint Powers Insurance Authority (CJPIA) and Liebert Cassidy Whitmore (ATTACHMENT 2).

RECOMMENDED ACTION

It is recommended that the Board review and approve this required plan as presented.
