DISCUSSION:

The presentation will highlight SERCAL's annual conference. This year's event is scheduled to be held at the Palo Corona Regional Park's Rancho Canada Unit on April 29th through May 1st.

SERCAL is a not-for-profit membership-based organization dedicated to the restoration of California's damaged ecosystems through conferences, technical presentations, field tours, workshops, and more.

Some of California's leading habitat conservation and restoration scientists and experts will attend and provide presentations. Participants will include biologists, ecologists, hydrologists, landscape architects, conservationists, and SERCAL's members.
